

Fall is Fibberlicious!

The Closet Chronicles
Fibber McGee's Newsletter - October November December 2010 Issue

Summer is wrapping up, but we certainly enjoyed it. Particularly while roughing it smoothly during our annual fishing derby in the alpine sunshine. Despite the alarming fact that during our lifetime we have slowly watched the really big ones steadily dwindle down in size each passing year, it has had no effect whatsoever on the rocking good times that continue to grow by leaps and bounds each event. For whatever reason, the smaller the fish get... the more fun we seem to have! The winning 13+ inch fish was caught by Andrew Duke and the $ pot was particularly sweet this year due to so many participants so congrats! With that kind of incentive there's no telling what the crafty characters involved may step up their fishing-game tactics to next year? Hint: Please, no dynamite!!! One of your editor's favorite sayings, "Truth is stranger than fiction" never ceases to astound one's self. After suffering a fuel line breakage and hanging at the dock during the final stages of our rescue operation, who should totally randomly appear but our former trooper, Jamie who had no idea the tournament was taking place while she was there camping and fishing with her family. She and hubby are also expecting their first bambino, and her sister Cally who also worked for us during that era are all doing just great out in Coalinga. We're so glad to hear it! Congratulations and thanks for coming by camp for the reunion of sorts. We can only imagine what wild adventures await next year! In a way, it is like one giant tailgate party, which is so fitting considering that we've already gotten some true tail-gating and football already under our belts! Our proximity to the stadium and easy accessibility from anywhere in town makes Fibber's the perfect spot to meet up with your friends, or even to park, where your chariot awaits after another big FSU win so we'll C U there all decked out in red! It seems even harder to fathom that the holidays will be knocking on the door before we know it, so get into the mind set of getting cozy down at Fibber's with all your comfort-food faves and new twists to boot! Consider us for a special dinner event on the evening of New Year's Eve... or just a killer Smothered or Black & Bleu any ole' time! C U @ Fibber's!

FIB Blurbs

For those of you in need of a Chandy-fix, just head on down to Fibber's on Sundays between noon and six beginning Halloween. How's that for freaky fun!?

We would like to honor a long-time friend of Fibber's, Dick Smith who was a jovial and quick witted character with a heart of gold. He loved banter and wonderful stories at Fibber's while dining with his good buddy Ray, and on special occasions, it wasn't uncommon for him to spontaneously dress up with what was at hand.... coffee filter hats, adorned with ruffled place mats, Kid's menus or bibs! You will be fondly missed. Here's a clink of the Boodles glass to you.

As flu season is upon us, there is no better time for a friendly reminder about your diligence in prevention by hand washing and covering your cough with the inside of your elbow.

The raffle drawing for the Jager Machine was won by our very own Matt Nolan, so we're guessing that the after-hour's party is at his place!

Open Mic Nite Wednesday's has turned out to be a really popular mid-week event to attend, so you need to check this out. There is some seriously good talent amongst us!

The Monsters hockey season kicks off on October 22nd and their V.P. Jay always hooks us up with some sweet seats or game gear, so head on down and see what we've got!
